CHRISTMAS EVE OFFERING

Earlier this year, our church renewed a mission partnership with Good Works.

Good Works, Inc. is a Christian, non-profit ministry dedicated to keeping low-income families in their homes. This is done through connecting local congregations to individual families and facilitating volunteerism and charitable giving. Good Works is based in Coatesville and exclusively serves northern Chester County families - our neighbors!

In addition to working on folks' home, the way Good Works runs their programming allows for church crews to form lasting relationships with the family they are serving, so the Good News of the Gospel can be shared, and the love and light of Jesus Christ can shine through the work.

Paoli Presbyterian Church has been paired with a family - a single mother with two teenage children, living in Spring City. There is much work to do on her home.

Every bit of our Christmas Eve offering this year will go to our partners at Good Works and helping to fund our work with our assigned family. As a people blessed with so much, let us give to those in great need, that we might share the joy of Christmas and love of Christ our Lord.

Our work days are the second Saturday of each month (next is January 10th). Reach out to Director of Missions Tom Infield (tom.infield@paolipres.org) or the church office if you would like to join us!
